GRAUPNER / O.S. GT55 petrol engine now available

In visual terms the new GT55 is reminiscent of the renowned O.S. range of two-stroke glowplug engines. The newly designed one-piece crankcase eliminates the need for gaskets in this area. The position of the carburettor at the front of the engine ensures optimum cooling, while a new type of micro-computer controlled ignition unit ensures superb performance over the power plant's full speed range. For more information and specifications please refer to our current 2010 New Items catalogue or visit www.graupner.de.
